Louie Meyer Pushed A V-8 Stock Car To Victory

Los Angeles, Calif., April 22,—Louie Meyer, famous race driver, pushed a Ford V-8 stock car to victory here this afternoon in the famous 150 Tarog Florio Hill Road at the American Legion Ascot Speedway in the remarkable time of 2 hours, 16 minutes, 33.4 seconds, averaging 51.33 miles per hour.

The Targo Florio Hill course is considered one of the most difficult in America. The circuit of 1.38 miles is filled with curves. A tough 22 per cent up-grade in the back stretch swerves into a winding 25 per cent decent with sharp turns coming in to the grandstand stretch. The track was in excellent condition. A clear day brought out a crowd of 35,000 which filled the main grandstand and two bleachers.

Ted Horn and Al Gordon, other well-known Cost pilots, both driving Fords, took second and third places respectively. Although cars of four other makes qualified for the race, Ford drivers won the first ten places in the event. All except one of these made only one stop at the pits for gas, oil and water. Engineers who examined the winning cars after the race said they were in excellent mechanical condition despite the grueling grind.

Meyer, the winner, paid high tribute to his Ford V-8 for its performance during the race. He said:

"I came in first because of absolute confidence in my Ford V-8. It handled perfectly in every detail—hill climbing ability, acceleration, brake control and fine riding. It had tremendous power. The V-8 engine sure did a job on one of the toughest courses in America."

Meyer won in a duel with Horn during the last ten of the 109 laps. The two drivers passed and repassed each other repeatedly in the last four teen miles, Meyer taking the lead in the last lap with a tremendous burst of speed as the crowds in the grandstand and bleachers cheered.

Drivers who completed the full course of 151.6 miles were forced to negotiate safely 600 major curves. These and the difficult grades which

WALCOTT NOSES OUT PEERLESS TEAM SCORE 16-13

BY—ELAR.

As Clear skies remained much in evidence the Walcott Independents and the Peerless Dairy Ball Club got under way to the first practice game of the 1934 season.

Crack! There it goes! Over the left field fences. A home run by August Schroeder bringing in two scores much needed as the result of the first inning.

Later in the game he came through with two hard hits classified as "a triple and double." Two possible home runs had they not struck the tree in center field and the later one striking the tree in right field.

To show that the pitcher is not the poorest hitter on the team, Harold Snaack came through with a home run and several hits during the scramble.

Next Sunday, May 6, the Walcott nine will open the 1934 with its first league opponent, Grand Mound at the local field. Let's all be there with plenty of Pep. After witnessing last Sunday's game we may put "rockie" Meyer back in uniform to show us a few tricks. However the intentions were to save him—for a rainy day.

The town council will meet Monday May 7th and will consider plans for the oiling of streets this summer. Many citizens are complaining about the dust nuisance, and it is suggested anyone interested attend this meeting voicing their approval or objections to such an oiling plan.

Amanda Strueben was hostess for the afternoon card party of the Pythian Sisters Thursday at the Lorenz Dietz home. In the card game prizes were awarded to Anna Paustian and Mabelle Moeller. The next hostess will be Mary Leabo

The Past Chiefs Club met at the home of Mrs. Lorenz Dietz with 13 members present. After a short business session cards were enjoyed and prizes awarded to Sisters Mary Leabo Tillie Nielsen and Clara Bennewitz. Booby prize was awarded to Birdie Wegener. The next hostess will be Adaline Knaack.

were so steep it was necessary to shift into second gear for five-eighths of a mile in each lap, prevented five of the 25 entrants from qualifying. Of the 20 entries, 15 finished. Twelve of these were Fords.

WHAT THE SIREN ALARM MEANS

Walcott, April 28—In the minds of some of us there may be the doubt of what the siren code for a country or town fire is. A statement from Fire Chief, John Jensen, may clear this confusion.

"As to the difference of the two calls there is none. Due to the fact that anyone may turn in the alarm, there is no designated call for a country or city run. The intensity of the siren alarm may be varied to accomplish its purpose more rapidly or to indicate the seriousness of the fire.

NEWS FLASHES

BY—ELAR

Well! there is one name that seems to appear in all papers. That name is Dillinger. Some say his actions are just a publicity stunt.

Well! That may be true we know this is not a publicity stunt because this trio slipped out of town early Sunday morning. Probably ashamed eh, Wouldn't you be if you hit a poor little ball around a 160 acre field as Ike Kock, Dr. Schroeder, and Harr Banze did last Sunday when they had a game of Golf at Credit Island.

Well! Daylight Saving time is with us again amid its good and bad views one consolation is that when you tune in on your radio and expect to hear a disliked program you can sit back in your easy chair with the pleasure of the announcement that the program has just concluded.

Well! I see where flames destroyed five million dollars worth of whiskey. I bet the owners feel bad not to mention those who wish they could have had just some of it.

Walcott, April 28—Fire Saturday morning burned a straw stack and a Ford Truck was partly destroyed.

The blaze was reported at 11:38 a. m. and the siren was immediately sounded. The Walcott Fire Department rushed to the Bolte farm where the exhaust sparks from the truck had ignited the stack.

Carl Frick, hired man of Herbert Bolte, was hauling straw with the truck when it caught fire but was unable to drag the truck clear of the blaze.

The property destroyed is owned by Fred Bolte. The truck was covered by insurance.

"Why, we simply give each other five dollar bills."

Chief Executive Saw

Point of Good Joke

One of the first things Washington learned of Millard Fillmore when he ascended to the Presidency upon the death of Zachary Taylor, in 1850, was that Fillmore possessed a keen sense of humor.

Shortly after taking the oath of office it became necessary that the President purchase a new coach. Because of the dignity of his position, Fillmore thought the coach should be somewhat out of the ordinary, and sent an old White House servant, Edward Moran by name, to shop about. Moran eventually learned that a wealthy citizen of Washington was about to leave the city and wished to dispose of his elegant equipage, which seemed to him quite the thing he was seeking.

The President viewed the coach and liked it immensely, but "How will it do for a President of the United States to be riding around in a second-hand carriage?" he asked Moran.

Moran could not resist the opportunity. "Sure," he replied, "you're only a second-hand President."

Fillmore thought this remark was

Most Contemptible Man

in World Is Discovered

South Bend, Ind.—The most contemptible man in the world has appeared in this city and exercised his meanness on Henry Emmons, a blind man who sells newspapers. This meanest man approached Emmons and gave him a piece of blank paper the size of a dollar bill. Emmons gave him a newspaper and 97 cents in change.

Later the trick was again worked. When Emmons' accounts for the day were cast up, the slips of blank paper were found.
